More than the old historical legend of a big city in the southern peninsula, the land of fertility of mountains and plants of Nakhon Si Thammarat, there are sceneries connecting to seaside of the Gulf of Thailand which are still beautiful and quiet in pleasant atmosphere.

These beaches, big and small islands have amazingly hidden the charms of the southern sea, especially the route from Amphoe (District) Pak Panang to Tha Sala, Si Chon, and Khanom. Surrounded by quiet and beautiful beaches among many islands, this route has its own identity of waved sea, clear water like glass, and the completeness of undersea world which is the heaven for divers. Moreover, the route is full of accommodations, facilities, and fresh, delicious, low-price seafood restaurants, including the surrounding of original local lifestyles of seamen which are captivating to learn.

When the season of traveling by sea arrives, the color and warm sunshine of Nakhon Si Thammarat are ready to welcome all visitors from everywhere to enjoy the beaches, sleep with the sound of waves, be impressed with the quietness and delicious food, and wake up to view the big sun in the middle of the sea. All of these pictures prove that the world of relaxation by the sea is as mesmerising as the beauty of the mountains and great culture of Nakhon Si Thammarat.

And are you now ready to experience these charms by yourselves?

Visit Sea of Si Chon

Si Chon is a small Amphoe of Nakhon Si Thammarat province located 60 kilometers from Nakhon town. Being an old Amphoe, Si Chon had been founded since King Rama V's reign. Some of its area is adjacent to the Gulf of Thailand Sea rendering the most beautiful views and a variety of seaside attractions. People here have their simple and sufficient lifestyles. Therefore, Si Chon is one of the favorite venues for both individuals and family tourists.

Hat Si Chon is called by local people as "Hua Hin Si Chon". With its topography of wide and long but not too steep, this area is most suitable for activities on the beach. Being one of the most famous and well-known tourist attractions, every weekend, this beach will be packed with people, both local and nearby, who come to relax regularly. Besides the beautiful view of sea and beach, many delicious and good atmosphere seafood restaurants are also available in this area.

Hat Kor Khao (Hat Piti) is a large local beach which is a favorite venue for many people to relax during weekends. It has large, quiet beach and many restaurants. At present, there is the construction of deep-water pier by private company.

Khao Pral Dam is adjacent to the sea between Amphoe Khanom and Si Chon. At present, on its top at 814 meters high, is the location of Nakhon Si Thammarat Wildlife Development and Conservation Promotion Station. This venue is the habitat of many wildlife animals such as wild deers, monkeys, langurs, birds, and butterflies.

The area in the east of Khao Pral Dam is adjacent to Ao Thong Yang - a bay with a 3 kilometer long white, clean beach. This is a beautiful bay amongst mountains. In this area, there is a delightful small garden and children play park which are suitable for family to relax.

Next to Ao Thong Yang is the location of Hat Hin Ngam, which is surrounded by many smooth, round stones, which is the derivation of its name. This is suitable for photo spot and strolling by the beach.

Visit Sea of Khanom

Khanom is the smallest Amphoe in the north of Nakhon Si Thammarat province which is adjacent to Surat Thani province. This old, seaside venue has many calm beaches, and comfortable accommodations. Additionally, this seaside area is suitable for driving along seaside roads, especially the bay which is called "Ao Khanom" - the bay with long beach under blue sky and wide sea water.

Hat Khanom National Park - Thale Tai Group of Islands cover the lands of more than 73,000 Rai and sea area of approximately 124,000 Rai. Besides the mangrove forest along Khlong (Canal) Khanom, there is a viewpoint where tourists can watch beautiful sunrise in the morning. The sea area also maintains many islands and the perfectness of undersea world for tourists to watch closely. Visitors can dive to be impressed by the colorful coral lines, including Staghorn coral, Disc coral, Leaf coral include Soft coral; many kinds of fish such as Butterflyfish, Clownfish, and many undersea animal ect: Giant clams, Moreover, there are many well-known tourist attractions such as Ko Noi, Ko Wang Nai, Ko Wang Nok, Ko Taen, and Ao Khanom, Ao Thong Yee, Ao Thong Yang, Khao Prai Dam. For further details, please contact tel. 08 6475 8392.

Hat Na Dan is 9 kilometer long, in the center of Ao Khanom with white, clean, soft sand, suitable for swimming and calm relaxation. Surrounded by shaded coconut trees, clean and beautiful scenery. The beach offers many restaurants and accommodations for tourists.

Ao Taled is adjacent to Amphoe Don Sak of Surat Thani province. There are important tourist attractions nearby such as Khao Lak Sor, Khao Phap Pha, Khao Hua Chang. Surrounded by perfect swamp forest, Ao Taled is the home of the dolphins. At the low tide, a fresh-water well can be seen in the middle of the sea. Local fishermen have simple and nice lifestyle. Nowadays, the horse shoe shape bay under the indigo blue sea is full of peace and beauty. Along the area in the north of the bay, there is a bird's eye viewpoint, visitors can see wide view, especially on the clear sky day.

Khao Phap Pha (Pancake Rock) is a big, steep cliff by the end of Ao Taled. It has many layers of rock, different in details, looks like the pile of clothes extending as long lines into the sea. Surrounded by many shaded plants, this area is a famous viewpoint of Amphoe Khanom.

Surrounded by perfect mangrove forest, Ao Thong Nian is the location of fishermen's village at Ban Laem Prathap. During the low-tide period in April-July, the wide beach will be seen with the line of coconut trees in front, the view will be beautiful like picture in postcard. Here is also the venue of Ban Laem Prathap Tourism Community Group which organizes tours around Khanom Sea, see pink dolphins, and many islands.

Ao Kwaeng Pao, Ao Thong Ching, Ao Thong Kruad are the three connecting small bays which are full of the atmosphere of the quiet sea of Nakhon. There are communities of local fishermen along the beaches. Next to the beaches are coconut gardens which are perfect by nature. At some areas there are seafood restaurants, offering both fresh and delicious dishes, with reasonable prices. At Ao Kwaeng Pao, there is also an area for camping where is suitable for group tours.

Hat Nai Plao has been a popular beach of Nakhon Si Thammarat for many years. The bay is semi-circular, in parallel with mountains and coconut line which render beautiful view and is suitable for view watching, and swimming. Here is also facilitated with accommodations, restaurants in many grades and prices.

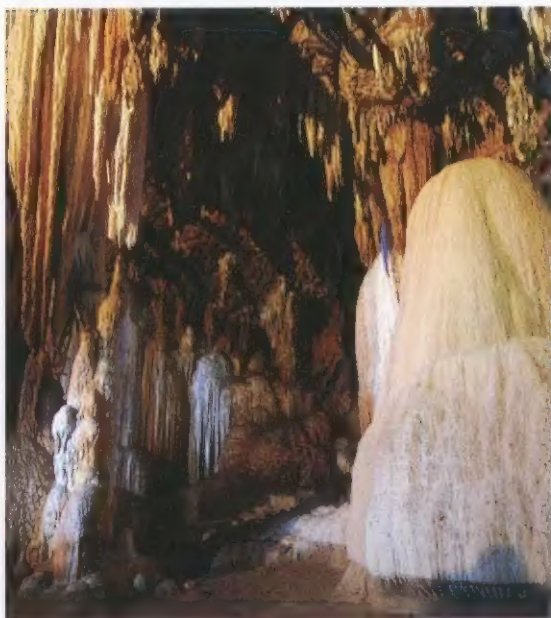

Ao Thong Yee is in between Khao Plao and Khao Klang. The surrounding area is naturally quiet and shaded. It is also regarded as the heaven for tourists who are fond of camping atmosphere. They can tent along the entrance road to Ao Thong Yee. The fishermen village here has been well known for producing shrimp paste. There are restaurants along the beach which are opened all year round.

Hat Nai Pret is a white sand beach, curved between Hat Na Dan and Hat Nai Plao. The beach is sloped down, wide with the low tide, quiet and suitable for swimming. At the south of the beach, there are rocks which seem to be the border line between Hat Nai Pret and Hat Nai Plao, and this area has the most beautiful views suitable for taking photographs.

Tham Khao Wang Thong is a large limestone cave. Inside the cave there are many rooms. Each room contains many shaped stalagmites and stalactites. Visitors can choose to consider their shapes by their imagination such as pagoda (Chedi), waterfall and others. At the entrance, there is a good viewpoint where visitors can enjoy wide and far view. To explore this cave which takes around one hour, visitors have to pass through or climb some areas. It is indeed a fun and exciting exercise and adventure. Please contact the staff before entering the cave.

Tham Khao Krod is located at the back of Tham Khao Krod Buddhist Monastery. It has 2 small caves, 300 meters apart. At the entrance, there is a rock of shell stratification. Inside the cave, there are different shaped stalagmites and stalactites, and a rock column in the middle.

Pakarang Chedi (Coral Pagoda) Chedi is an important ancient remains of Amphoe Khanom. It is believed that this old Chedi is more than thousand years of age. It was built by compiling coral rocks into bowl-shaped Chedi, with approximately six meters in diameter. Around this Chedi, there is a Buddha which was sculptured from red sandstone. This venue has been well reputed as the outstanding civilization site of Nakhon Si Thammarat, and it is also the viewpoint for the wide scenery of Ao Thong Nian.

Ao Thong Nian is a small bay, with long beach and rocks, located between Ao Kwaeng Pao and Ao Thong Nian. Beside the sand on the beach, some areas are full of small shells accumulation which apparently seems to be the beach of shells.

Khao Dard Fa Viewpoint is 700 meters above sea level, in Hat Khanom National Park - Mu Ko Thale Tai. This area has been claimed as one of the venues in Nakhon Si Thammarat that visitors can watch the most beautiful sunrise and sunset. On a clear sky day, visitors can see Mu Ko Taen and Mu Ko Samui in Surat Thani. Moreover, Khao Dard Fa has the perfect evergreen rain forest, which is the habitat of many wild birds and animals.

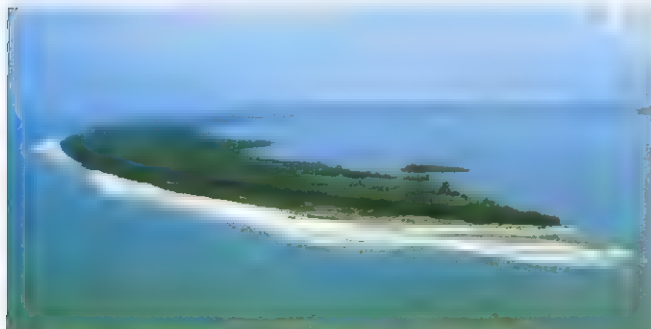

Travel in the Sea of Pak Panang

Pak Panang is an Amphoe established in the reign of King Rama V. In the past, this site is an important port, suitable for ship traveling and distribution of goods to other places. Pak Panang had been the center for trading and business during those years.

Pak Panang is also well-known as the location of Laem Talumpuk which was destroyed by typhoon disaster in 1962. At present, here is a quiet and simple place, and is considered as a town of charming people and beautiful scenery.

Laem Talumpuk is a cape with crescent beach. It has been well-known since the severe typhoon disaster in 1962. That disaster caused much destruction to people, housing, and surrounded area. But at present, the surrounded area has been turned into the habitat of fishermen community with simple lifestyle. Along the coast, there are many restaurants and souvenir shops. Tourists, who visit this historical place, can enjoy the beautiful scenery and be impressed by the most serene atmosphere.

Pak Panang River was an important transportation route of towns and communities in the past. It is also the important water source which can grow a lot of rice. Pak Panang is called a harvest land of Malaya Peninsular.

At present, this river can be claimed as the main blood for many people who live in the land where it passes. It starts from Ban That mountain range in Amphoe Cha Uad, pass Amphoe Chian Yai, and goes to Ao Thai at Amphoe Pak Panang. Along the river route, beside creating the way of lives of the people, there are many beautiful views among high mountains, with the hills in the middle, and leading to the wide and fertile plain.

Nok Aen (swallow) Condo is a condominium, constructed as same as human's home. This building is built as the home of the swallows, to use their nests as supplementary food. It started around 1937, at this 3-storey building, some swallows started to move in to live inside with the acceptance of the owner. After more migration of swallows, there were many buildings, constructed as the habitats of these animals. At present, there are more than 80 buildings or condominiums (as called) for swallows in Amphoe Pak Panang. Each building is not higher than 7 stories, and has beautiful constructions. They are the favorite places for study tour among tourists.

Royal Residential Hall is constructed under the "Project House Construction for Dad", which is the cooperation of people in Nakhon Si Thammarat, and Thais all over the country, with the objective of building a venue where H.M. the King can work during his visit to this province.

This Royal Residential Hall is in the area of Pak Panang River Basin Development Project under H.M.the King's Initiation. This palace includes the royal residential complex, Museum Honouring the King for the Development of Pak Panang Basin, and Uthokvibhajaprasid Water Gate. Inside the museum, there are the displays of exhibitions related to the projects under H.M.the King's initiation, projects related to water, history of the project since the past to present, and displays the legend of Laem Talumpuk which was destroyed by typhoon.

Fall in Love with Tha

Tha Sala is the location of many Brahman ancient towns and it is also located near the seaside area. Besides being calm and simple, Tha Sala has beautiful views with sustainable lifestyle of fishermen.

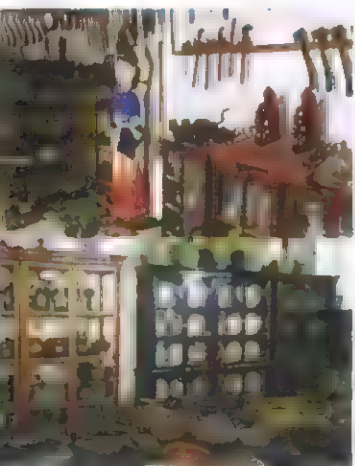

Sunrise Beach or is known by the locals as Hat Dan Phasi, has Ridge dam long the coast. The slope beach is suitable for swimming. Seafood restaurants and resorts are also available. In the morning, the view of sunrise is magnificently beautiful.

Hat Sai Kaeo has long beach, parallel to pine tree line, and beautiful views. During weekends, visitors always come as family group. On the beach area, is the location of Hat Sai Kaeo Museum where the owner collects many materials discovered from wrecked ship under the sea, including old celadon wares and old beads. At present, visitors and interesting persons can visit the museum by calling for more details at Tel: 08 1719 2691

Sala Sea

Hat Pho Thong and Hat Thara are apart from Hat Sai Kaeo for approximately 1 kilometer. It is a quiet and shaded beach. Along the beach, there are coconut and pine tree line. Restaurants by the sea are available, suitable for scenery viewing and lying to enjoy the sea breeze. On weekdays, the surrounded atmosphere is calm, suitable for those who need to really relax.

Birds' Cage and Local Kite Manufacturing Center at Ban Nai Tung are on the Highway No.401 (Nakhon Si Thammarat - Tha Sala - Surat Thani route). Ban Sa Bua is the location of shops which are famous for selling birds' cages and local kites. This is the biggest manufacturing center of Nakhon Si Thammarat. People here have main jobs in making bird's cages. During kite playing season, they turn to make many kites to sell. With their specific local characters, these birds' cages and local kites have been distributed to sell in other areas. At present, they have been exported to Malaysia.

Activities of Sea Traveling in Nakhon

Sea is the attraction which is popular among every group of tourists-friends, family, and lovers. Not only the beautiful view of the wide sea, the sea breeze is cool and comfortable. Many activities are available such as lying to listen to the waves and be impressed by the quiet atmosphere or having fresh, delicious seafood, swimming, sunbathing. Therefore, different activities have been designed by each individual visitor's satisfaction.

At the sea of Nakhon Si Thammarat, there are full of activities, when compared to other venues. Moreover, the unique identity is the simple, quiet beach. Including comfortable accommodations at reasonable price, suitable for real relaxation. The interesting activities include the followings:

Driving along the beach - By the sea of Nakhon Si Thammarat, there are roads that visitors can drive to witness the beauty of seaside beach, and the simple lifestyle of local fishermen in the South. Along the road, visitors will be impressed by the architecture of the old Thai style house with diamond shape roof tiles.

Starting from Nakhon Si Thammarat town, drive along Highway No. 401 to Amphoe Tha Sala, visit Hat Dan Phasi, Hat Sai Kaeo, Hat Pho Thong, and Hat Thara, and further on to the entrance of Si Chon and continue to Highway No. 4232, along the beach to Khao Prai Dam, Hat Nai Plao, etc. and ending at Amphoe Khanom.

Just only these, you may perceive that a small road along seaside is amazingly beautiful.

Traveling by Boat, Sea Watching, and Visiting the Island. The sea area in Amphoe Khanom is under the responsibility of Hat Khanom - Mu Ko (Islands) Thale Tai National Park. There are many small and big islands which are suitable and worthwhile to visit. Some islands are suitable for scuba diving such as Kong Hin (Pile of Rock), Ran Ped Ran Kai, which have been nourished by Disc Coral, Soft Coral, and many beautiful fish. On the other hand, some islands are suitable for snorkel diving such as Ko Rap, Ko Taen, Ko Wang nai, Ko Mud Taeng. Both styles of diving can offer different, beautiful and joyful undersea world. For those who are interested in squid fishing in the evening, there is also boat service for this activity. Advancing People, Partnership & Performance

"Human Energy" made today possible...

We are proud of the part we play in producing the energy that's powering Thailand today.

For 50 years we have partnered with the Kingdom of Thailand. We are people, progress and innovation working together to move the country forward. We are the power of Human Energy.
